

I have worked for over twenty years as a professional photographer specializing in editorial and industrial photography. During these years I have been photographer in various mining projects in Chile and abroad, Collahuasi, La Escondida, Los Pelambres and Antamina in Peru inter alia.

Always looks for the best picture and I have a special interest in exceeding the expectations of my clients.

The main benefits that offer are:

- A quality work.
- A good interpersonal relationship with my clients.
- Delivery corrected photographic material in high and low resolution for easy selection.
- Using portable professional lighting equipment in the field.
- Knowledge of safety standards so I can recognize when they are not infringing the rules and be able to get a good picture.
- Own safety equipment.
- Medical report for work at height.
- Languages Spanish and English.

Since 1997 I am represented in New York by the agency Getty Images and 2006 I was awarded the Excellence in Construction Photography by Engineering News - Record.

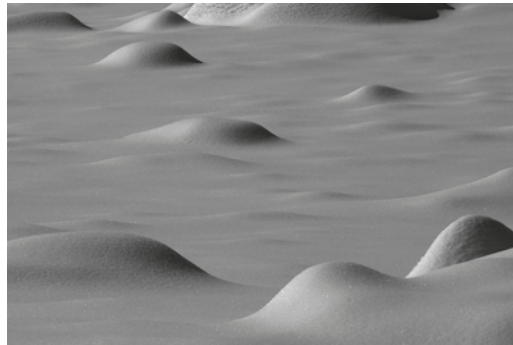

Please do not hesitate to contact me to share my photography experience with you.
